AURES Technologies to launch YUNO at RBTE 2015 – an elegant, compact and robust new EPoS terminal

Visit Stand 676 for a demonstration

Runcorn, March 2015: The new beautifully-engineered Yuno from AURES Technologies will be showcased at the forthcoming Retail Business Technology Expo' (RBTE). Yuno utilises quality materials and latest technical innovation to provide an affordable, stylish EPoS solution for a diverse range of retail and hospitality markets.

Moray Boyd, Managing Director of AURES Technologies in the UK, explains the Yuno rationale: "Yuno is the first 'next generation' terminal collaboratively designed between recently-merged EPoS manufacturers AURES and J2; it exemplifies combined design excellence. Yuno offers retailers a cost effective, reliable, compact and stylish point of sale touch screen computer with minimum five-year product life".

Continues Boyd: "Yuno is elegant, compact and robust, and it's the best engineered machine I've seen. It utilises quality materials and latest technical innovation to provide an affordable, stylish EPoS solution for all markets."

Yuno's fanless, maintenance-free design features 64GB 2.5" SSD (solid-state drive) as standard, delivering extreme reliability for harsh retail environments together with silent operation and increased energy efficiency. The SSD clips in/out for fast, easy access.

Powered by ultra-energy efficient Intel™ quad-core Celeron™ J1900 2GHz 'Bay Trail' processor, Yuno provides a standard 4GB of memory (upgradeable to 8GB).

Yuno offers a super-slim, zero-bezel, power saving LED backlit display incorporating a highly durable multi-touch Projected Capacitive Touchscreen that is shock/scratch proof and resistant to heat, moisture and harsh cleaning products (choice of regular or wide aspect). Yuno is currently available in a choice of Black or White casing.

Yuno provides a multitude of discreetly-concealed PC and POS connectivity options for a wide range of configurations.

All AURES products are WEEE & RoHS compliant and offered with a full three-year warranty.
